

Make the right life choice

AIG[®]

90 years in business 65 million policy holders 1 policy purchased every 10 seconds

For more than 90 years, American International Group, Inc. (AIG) has been helping people when they need it most. AIG is the world's sixth largest public company* employing over 100,000 people in more than 130 jurisdictions. The strength of the brand is evidenced by its global asset base which exceeds A$1.1 trillion.

In Australia, AIG Life combines its extensive international experience with local expertise. Many life insurance companies adopt a 'one size fits all' approach to life protection. At AIG Life, our approach is a little more flexible. By focusing on the individual, we tailor our plans to meet your needs, providing you with the very best level of protection.

That's the AIG Life difference.

We're part of the world's sixth largest company

Protect the things that really matter™

We're here to help everyday Australians when they need us most. We understand that a serious injury, illness or the loss of a loved one can be an extremely traumatic time for you and your family. To help reduce the emotional burden during these difficult times, we've built a team of experienced professionals to support you through the claims process. Our claims team is committed to maintaining open communication with clients at all times. We make every effort to pay claims promptly and make sure every claim that should be paid is paid.

You can relax in the knowledge that we're backed by a Standard & Poor's AA+ rating, the highest rating afforded to any life insurance company in Australia.

So whether you need to make a claim tomorrow or in 20 years, you can rest assured we'll be around to pay it.

'Choosing AIG Life was the smartest thing we ever did'

– Malcolm Jones†, AIG Life customer

In November 2006, Malcolm Jones' life was turned upside down. He thought the world was at his feet as he prepared himself for retirement, until he was diagnosed with a life-threatening illness.

The following is an extract from a letter we received from him . . .

Six weeks ago I was diagnosed with bowel cancer and secondary liver cancer. My initial diagnosis was three to six months and I was facing the possibility of a major operation to remove the cancer in my bowel. By the afternoon, after my second visit to the specialist, my life expectancy had been reduced to between six weeks and three months.

I phoned my insurance adviser, David†, who I had known for 19 years and who had originally assisted in putting my insurance cover in place. Within three days of submitting a claim to AIG Life, I received my first payment of $653,535 and then another payment which brought the total payment to over $1.2 million.

Although I have not met the people at AIG Life who have been involved, David kept me informed of everyone's efforts to ensure that my claim was processed in the most efficient manner. I am sure this has a lot to do with the excellent relationship that he has with AIG Life and the fact that the right advice was given in our situation.

To all the AIG Life staff, I would like to express our thanks for relieving me of the financial burden and worry that I would have faced if I did not have this cover.

The payments from AIG Life enabled Malcolm to obtain an expensive medical treatment from Japan, only available to a few patients around the world. After taking this medication for over six months, Malcolm was recently informed that his once-inoperable cancer is now operable. This surgery will hopefully extend Malcolm's life expectancy significantly, enabling him to spend more time with his family.

It's feedback like this that inspires the team at AIG Life to do what we do, every day.

We're committed to high performance

As a company that enjoys a proud history of excellence and achievement, it's no coincidence that AIG is the major sponsor of the Manchester United Football Club. It's a good fit. Our organisations share a number of key qualities including teamwork, confidence and success. Our support of the global game also reflects our worldwide strength and presence. And while our goals may be a little different, our commitment to performance is equally strong.
